About me

My name is Bas, a 24 year old life science student who specializes in data analysis. My favourite thing about biology is DNA-sequencing.

Some stuff about me

- I have done half a year of programming before life science in which I learned java and SQL.
- I have been swimming my whole life and have experience in rescue swimming and scuba diving.
- I have experience working with DNA-sequencing with the help of the min-ION.
- I can work with the agile workflow and work with a scrum board
